

StaffCall 500 Paging System

Transform your kitchen to restaurant communications with a Wait Staff Paging System

The StaffCall Paging System will transform the way your restaurant communicates with your staff.

Ensure that you deliver hot fresh food effortlessly whilst maximising the time staff spend with your diners.

A simple press of the call button on the kitchen transmitter instantly alerts the front of house staff that food is ready for collection.

With a transmitter that can operate from mains power or battery backup you can have a fixed or portable transmitter.

A staff paging system helps you offer the best customer service and ensures wait staff spend more quality time with guests maximising profits
